

Pop in and say hello.....

PEDAS (Poole and East Dorset Art Society)
Summer Exhibition - 'Art in the Heart of Poole'
August 2018 in the Poole Dolphin Shopping Centre Eco-hub

Saturday 4th August 2018

10:30 am: "Planet Earth Needs Our Help"

A fun, creative and interactive family experience based on the children's book about Planet Earth and Climate Change. Written and illustrated by PEDAS member Marylyn Cropley, it celebrates the wonders of our planet and raises awareness of the issues around climate change in a non-threatening, simple, and informative way.

Pop in, view the book and speak to the author. Have an informal chat with local environmentalist Martin Price with your questions or concerns about climate change.

Create your own short stories, poems, or illustrations inspired by planet earth, as part of a communal planet earth book.

2-4 pm: The Freeplay Collective

Local performers "Taking the Mic" invite you to an afternoon of live music, poetry and creative interactions.

- Stop, listen, relax and enjoy whilst looking around the gallery.
- Pick up a pencil and paper, sketch the performers, draw to the music or jot down a few words on what live music and art exhibitions mean to you. Keep this to yourself or share in a communal file!
- Be inspired to find out what's happening in your local live music scene and art galleries.

Freeplay's vision: "Fostering individual well-being through creative community experiences"

www.freeplay.1me.net

We look forward to seeing you here!

For further information about the PEDAS Summer Exhibition and Poole Dolphin Centre Eco-hub please visit these websites:

<http://www.pedas.org.uk/>

<http://www.dolphinshoppingcentre.co.uk/eco-hub.html>

